Solid Body Guns

WE wish to call the attention of gun buyers to one very important fact in connection with our hammer guns, that is, that all our bar lock guns are made with the improved solid body. The illustrations herewith will show at a glance that this is a very great advantage and very considerably increases the strength of the guns. The solid body has been used by nearly all makers in connection with high-priced hammer guns for some years, but we do not know of any other maker who has been able, or who does supply a solid body in a low priced gun.

It will be observed that in the first illustration, which shows the old plan, the mainspring of the lock is in the front part; this necessitates the cutting away of a very considerable portion of the action at the points indicated by figs. 1 and 2, to allow the mainspring to fit into the action. Now it is just at these points that the greatest strain is put upon a gun when the cartridge is discharged, therefore, it is of the utmost importance that every gun shall be as strong as possible at these points, and not weakened by any unnecessary cutting away of metal.

The second illustration shows our improved solid body-action, and it will be observed that in this case the mainspring of the lock is at the back; it is therefore only necessary to cut out of the action just sufficient metal to allow the lock plates to fit in instead of cutting out the thickness of mainspring, and lock-plate on each side as in the old pattern. It will easily be seen how much stronger the solid body is at points 3 and 4 than the old pattern is at points 1 and 2. We have fitted solid-body actions to all our bar-lock guns for the last 30 years, and during that time, we have not heard of one failing in any way; but during the same time we have had many dozens of guns, by various makers, sent to us with the old pattern actions cracked entirely through at the weak part, as indicated by the crack at fig. 2 on the first illustration. We strongly advise anyone buying a bar-lock gun, no matter of what make or quality, to insist on having it with a solid body. This is specially important if the gun is to be used with nitro or smokeless powders, or with heavy charges.

Reprinted from the "Shooting Times," February 25th, 1922. AN ENTERPRISING BIRMINGHAM GUN FIRM.

Commercial enterprise is commendable at any time, but in this most critical period it becomes of national importance as providing an invaluable stimulus to British Industry and the surest rampart against the ultra aggressiveness to foreign competition. And enlightened shooters will be ready to applaud such enterprise in both gun and ammunition manufacture, as likely to provide such higher grade products for the furtherance of their sport as keen competition alone will ensure.

Recently, when visiting the works of the Midland Gun Co., a striking object lesson was afforded us of British pluck and perseverance in extending a gun-making business so that it may adequately cope with the enlarged trade outlook which surely is before us. The picture here given of certain shops in the company's Bath Street works convey an idea—albeit incomplete

The Machine Shop shown here is, for its size, one of the most completely equipped buildings in the sporting gun and rifle trade. The machines shown comprise milling, drilling, slotting, chambering, and automatic machines and lathes. Naturally, the machine shop of a firm like this, which issues a catalogue showing 30 different patterns of sporting double guns, cannot show long rows of machines doing repetition work. The object of the Midland Gun Co. is to cater for a variety of tastes in men who desire to gratify those tastes even to the extent of having personal ideas carried out in respect of gun construction and ornamentation. This machine shop, therefore is laid out on these lines, and so is fully capable of undertaking the most exact work; such for example, as machine, special rifle or shot gun body and the parts to go therewith.

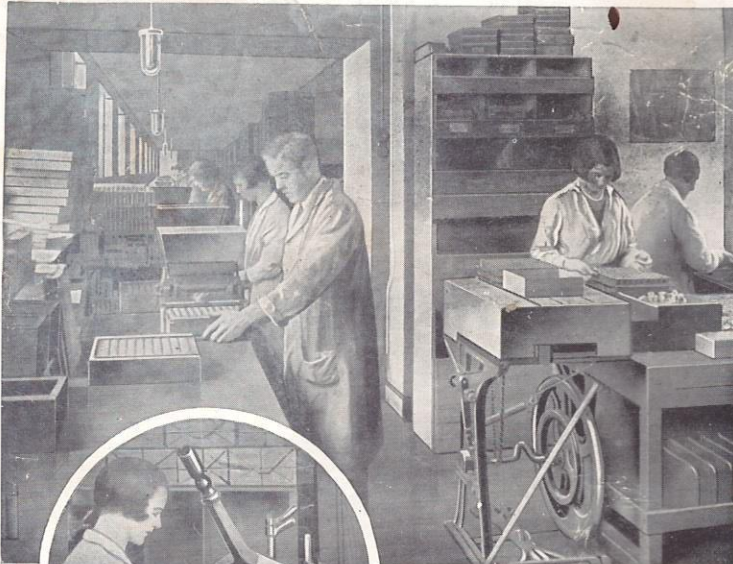

as regards both series and extent—of this Birmingham gun firm's undertakings. In the "Choking, Drilling and Boring Shop" certain gun essentials are made—e.g., tubes are drilled to the necessary dimensions, for submission to the Government test at the Proof House, after which the tubes are paired finished and made ready for the barrel filer. After the actions are filed, the gun is Choking, Drilling and Boring Shop.

The photograph designated "Gun Warehouse" shows the shot gun and rifle warehouse, also the Freeing and Regulating Department. Here again it may be said that all the men are experts in their particular sections of work—as indeed they require to be in a gun factory turning out so remarkable a range of shot-gun types in addition to seven different patterns of single and double sporting rifles. In fact, in these brief lines it is not possible to convey any complete idea respecting the specialised knowledge that is essential for conducting a department covering so wide a range of gun manufacture. However, it may be realised that here there is found scope for the employment of men who are specialists in their own particular sections of gunmaking.

Gun Warehouse, Freeing and Regulating.

Cartridge Room.

submitted to the second and final Government proof test, when the weapon is stocked and screwed. The barrels are then ready for the ultimate fine boring, therein being comprised one of the fine arts of gunmaking upon which so much of the success in shooting depends. In this department as elsewhere, first-class craftsmen are employed, the company completely realising the utmost importance of barrel boring and choking in relation to the manufacture of sporting firearms of any class. In the "Correspondence" columns of the "Shooting Times" of January 31st, 1922, is recorded the remarkably consistent shooting made by a plain quality gun as bored and manufactured by the Midland Gun Co., when shooting their cheapest brand of cartridges known as the "Keeper."

Part of Machine Shop.

Finally, a fourth picture shows the Repair Shop, which is well equipped for undertaking repairs to any class of sporting or military rifle, as well as to any size or form of shot-gun. During the last year some one thousand five hundred guns were passed through this shop for repairs, those repairs being executed for customers in all parts of the world. The men in this shop were fully capable of undertaking the correction, alteration and renovation of the finest quality weapons. For new barrel repairs the Boring and Machine Shops are of great assistance, and being self-contained they enable repairs and refittings to be finished in the minimum of time and cost and with the maximum of efficiency. In fact, guns frequently have been restocked within 24 hours, and new barrels affixed to double guns within 10 days. But, of course, these times would not apply to best quality guns.

The conversion of good-class muzzle loaders to breech-loaders is also a speciality in this department, the firm having many letters to show from clients expressive of the firm's endeavour to retain as much as possible of the original gun so that the converted arm may be enhanced in value.

PROOF HOUSE.—Arrangements can be made at any time so that any of our Clients may view the London or Birmingham Proof Houses.

SHOOTING TIMES,
London, England.

BRITISH GUNMAKING ENTERPRISE.

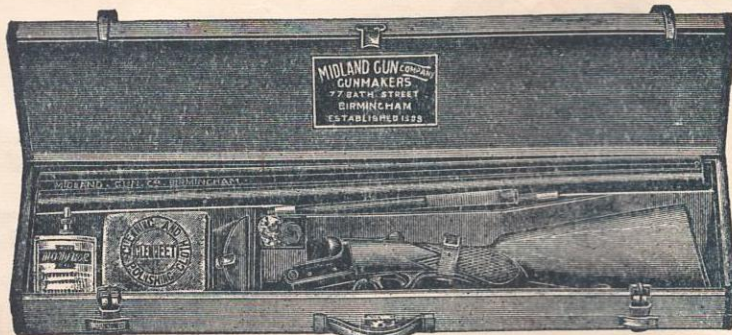

Recently there was submitted to me for examination and trial in the field a very pleasing example of gunmaking enterprise. This, the weapon produced by the Midland Gun Co., of Birmingham, mentioned at the conclusion of last week's "Gun Talks." The price at which this gun is offered to the public is astonishingly low—£15 - 0 - 0; taking everything into consideration, that price would have been regarded as very moderate in pre-war times. This conveys very pleasing evidence that British gunmaking enterprise is not yet stifled by all the unfavourable conditions with regard to cost of materials and labour along with other commercial drawbacks now encountered, for I am assured that this gun has been made throughout in this firm's own factory. Thus one more example is afforded of English pluck and determination in grappling with the present inauspicious trade conditions, without seeking the aid of cheap Continental labour. And if this is the case when all British commerce stands at zero, just so surely may we hope to find on the better turn coming that the gunmaking trade of this country will arise revived from the dead ashes of the past European conflagration and once again prove to the whole world that the sporting firearms of Birmingham and London are easily first in respect of practical worth and sterling value.

This ejector 12-bore has the Anson-Deeley Hammerless action, top snap fastening with "Purdey" underbolt. The barrels are steel, 30 inches long, cylinder bored right and full choke left, and fully nitro proved. There is the Deeley edge type of fore-end fastener; the stock is of walnut, nicely grained, and having half pistol hand. The action-body, cover-plate, trigger guard, etc., bear neat border engraving and there is the usual automatic safety-bolt. This gun handles very pleasingly, and having put its powers to the test, both at the target and in the field, I am enabled to say that it shoots well and ejects the exploded shells very smartly; in fact, in performance, as in appearance, there is here offered very excellent value for the price asked.

Patent Selective Single-Trigger Mechanism for Double Barrel Guns

Fires
Right-Left
or Left-Right.

Fires

The mechanism is strong and simple. The opening of Gun automatically puts trigger in position for firing right and left. By tipping the trigger forward the order is reversed, and it will fire left first. The projection marked 1 fires right first, and 2 fires left, but if left is fired first 2 fires left and 3 fires right.

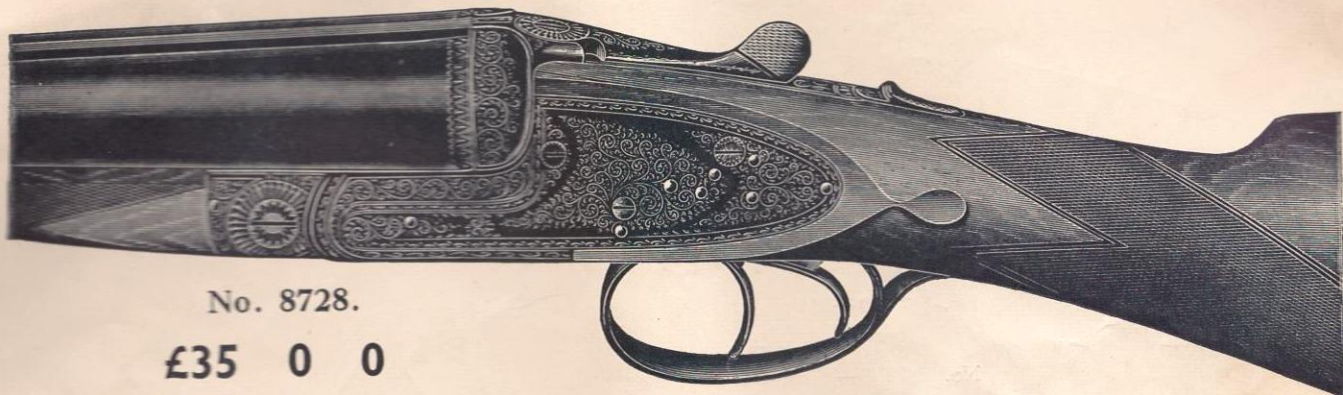

£12 0 0 extra to any of our better-class Hammerless Guns.

Most makes of Hammerless Guns can be converted to Single Trigger.

The Midland .410 gauge Cartridge Adaptor for 12, 16 or 20 Bore Gauge SHOT GUNS.

BRITISH MAKE. TWO GUNS IN ONE.

CONVERT YOUR 12, 16 or 20 BORE GUN INTO A GARDEN GUN WHEN NEEDED.

The illustration clearly shows the Adaptor in use; it is made from a fine quality piece of steel, carefully turned to fit exactly the chamber and bore of the gun, and with great regard to ease of extraction of the fired case. 2-in. and 2½-in. cases may be used and very fine penetration is registered with both lengths of our cartridges.
(Will Not Harm Ejector Guns.)

The Adaptor is Nitro Proved, weighs 7½-ozs., is 5¼-in. long, and neatly browned. The use of a .410 cartridge where game can be killed effectively owing to the absence of a great amount of noise makes for greater possibilities of shooting in a smaller area.

Double Cordite Express Rifles.

(MADE BY EXPERT HANDCRAFTSMEN IN THESE WORKS.)

Rifles in .475 and .500 are suitable for killing thick skinned dangerous beasts. Every Rifle Guaranteed. Best Material only used.

I enclose a photograph of an elephant which I shot with a double .450/.400 Cordite Rifle purchased from you in 1927. Unfortunately I have not had an opportunity of shooting any Elephant at Petauke, but I have killed four with the rifle.

The Elephant in the photograph was killed with a shot behind the shoulder and dropped within twenty yards. The Tusks weighed 60 and 40 lbs. each. It was a bigger bull than the ivory would lead one to think. I am very satisfied with the rifle. Yours faithfully,

Lundazi, via, Fort Jameson, Rhodesia, South Africa.

No. 5194

Double Cordite Express Rifle. Top lever hammerless pattern, cross-bolt extension, steel barrels, any length, pistol grip stock, eyes for sling. Sighted to 300 yards, or as required. has a tubular magazine to take .22 long rifle, long or short cartridges, mixed if required. It is a powerful hitter at 200 yards.

The B.S.A. Repeating Rifle is quite modern and original in design. It is a weapon of great utility—one which exactly fulfils the requirements of the sportsman who desires an accurate, rapid-firing .22 bore rifle for small game and general shooting. Its effective killing range is 200 yards. It also makes an excellent saloon rifle.

Here is a new and more modern B.S.A. Rifle for .22 bore marksmen.

The barrel and action are exactly as fitted to the world-famous B.S.A. No. 12 Rifle, but the fixed portion of the backsight is now an integral part of the body. There is not the slightest trace of backlash in the wind-gauge or elevating movements.

The design of the new pistol grip upon test by some of the leading small bore riflemen in the country proved ideal. The special lever facilitates the quick working of the action in time limit competitions.

The cheek-piece is an addition which has been called for repeatedly by small bore riflemen. The fore-end has been increased in length and the forward sling eye is now fitted to the fore-end, not to the barrel.

B.S.A. TARGET AND SPORTING RIFLES

These rifles are made on the accurate repetition machinery employed in the manufacture of Lee-Enfield Service Pattern Arms for H.M. War Department.

B.S.A. Sporting Rifles are used in all parts of the world for killing all kinds of game, except the thick skinned dangerous beasts.

Illustration showing bolt open and all backsights leaves up.

Notwithstanding the low prices, the very best materials only are used, and the rifles are built with such close regard to weight, balance and shape of stock that they come up to the shoulder nicely making snap-shooting easy.

These rifles are supplied for either the .303 British Service Pattern Mark VII Cartridge, or the .315 (8 m/m).

REPEATING AND AUTOMATIC RIFLES

(ALL GUNS ON THIS PAGE FOREIGN MAKE)

"F.N." BROWNING AUTOMATIC SPORTING, SALOON & TARGET RIFLE with dismountable 19" barrel; adjustable spring leaf backsight and bead foresight. Plain pistol hand walnut stock. Total length 36 $\frac{1}{4}$ " Weight about 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. Calibre .22 Short, 12 shot. Calibre .22 Long Rifle, 9 shot.

THE BROWNING AUTOMATIC RIFLE

For .22 cal. Short Smokeless Cartridges. Also .22 cal. long Rifle Cartridges.

Take-down Barrel, 19-in. long.
Overall length 36-in.
Weight .. 4 lbs.

The magazine is in the butt, following the style of the Winchester Automatic. An excellent rifle for rooks and rabbits. Loads itself and ejects the empty shell automatically. Instantly dismountable for cleaning. The trigger is provided with a safety locking device. Smokeless cartridges are the best and make very little noise. The high power "long rifle" cartridge as used by target shooters does not function well in this rifle.

For .22 long rifle low power smokeless cartridges.

PRICE £4 5 0

For .22 short smokeless cartridges.

PRICE £4 5 0

Prices of Foreign rifles are only APPROXIMATE and subject to confirmation by us.

THE NEW BROWNING REPEATING RIFLE

Cal. .22

PRICE £5 0 0

It is hammerless, and has a barrel most easily dismounted from the action, and all parts being interchangeable and inexpensive can be replaced by the shooter himself with very little trouble.

The working of the rifle is done by hand by pressing backward and forward after each shot the wood fore-end under the barrel, and it is from this manner of ejecting the empty cases and reloading the rifle that the word Trombone is used as this word describes exactly its manner of functioning.

The loading of the magazine is very easy, the cartridges being simply dropped into the tubular magazine underneath the barrel until it is full, its capacity being 15 Short, 12 Long or 11 Long-rifle cartridges. any of these cartridges can be used in the same rifle at one time.

It is fitted with a straight bar adjustable backsight, easily regulated by a turn-screw, and as all the working parts are easily accessible the rifle is easily kept clean and if carefully oiled will work perfectly in every way. It should be cleaned and greased immediately after shooting and the barrel wiped through from the muzzle end and not from the chamber, as if allowed to get dirty, its efficiency is impaired.

Total length of Rifle 39 -in.
Length of Barrel 22 -in.
Length of Stock 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ -in.
Bend of Stock 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ -in.
Weight of Rifle (empty) 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ -lbs.

The Walther Automatic Rifle

CALIBRE .22 LONG RIFLE.

This new small calibre rifle is a product of the well and favourably known armoury WALTHER. This new system of small calibre rifle, satisfies the wish expressed for a long time, for a self-loading rifle for the calibre .22 long rifle ammunition. The new Walther automatic rifle is constructed according to specifications laid down by authorities in the shooting line. It has been built with a view for use at the target, as well as for hunting small game. A special advantage of the Walther automatic rifle is the fact that it can be used as an Automatic Rifle, Repeating Rifle, and as a Single Shot Rifle. The experience obtained in the manufacture of self-loading arms during decades of years, by the Walther Arms Factory, guarantees reliable functioning of the gun, as well as the high-grade of workmanship placed on the rifles.

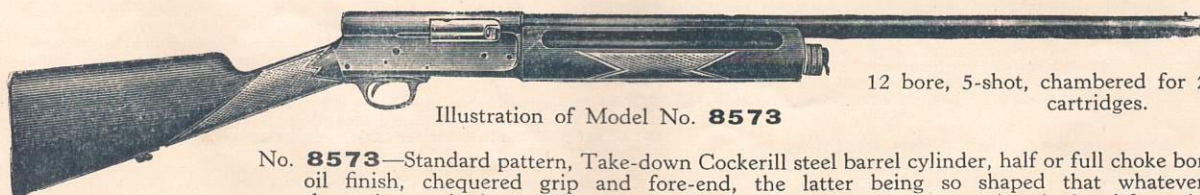

£7 10 0

LIGHT MODEL. Weight 5-lbs. Length overall 39½-in. Length of barrel 20½-in.

Chief Advantages

1. The rifle can be used as an automatic rifle, as a repeating rifle, and as a single shot rifle.
2. When using as an automatic or as a repeater, no part of the breech block moves toward the rear, and the shooter can not be injured by a defective cartridge.
3. The breech block can be lifted from the receiver from the rear, thereby giving easy access to parts of the lock and the barrel, for the purpose of cleaning.
4. The regular stock magazine holds 5 cartridges, but magazines of more capacity can be furnished.
5. The rifle has the usual well known gun safety slide, so well known to sportsmen. Upon request the rifle can be furnished with the folding safety generally used on the large calibre hunting rifles.
6. The trigger has a uniform easy pull, that can be regulated to pull harder or easier.
7. The shooting of the rifle is of the highest order.
8. The rifle can be loaded or unloaded when the safety is on.

No. 135—Pistol with holster attached, forming a butt, so that it can be used as a Rifle to shoot from the shoulder. The pistol shown is the latest model taking 10 cartridges, is sighted to 1000 yards, weighs 2½ lbs. (or with holster 3½ lbs.), and fires six or seven shots per second. Mauser pistols possess many advantages over the ordinary pattern revolver. They are effective both at short and long range and can be used both as a pistol and as a carbine; they are much more accurate and more rapid; they will shoot pointed nickel soft nose and special all-range military bullets with smokeless powder, and will do effective work at ranges where a revolver would be useless, there is little or no recoil, and the cartridges weigh 2½ lbs. to the 100, as against 4½ lbs. for the cartridge used in the ordinary service revolver.

"THE SHOOTING TIMES."

14th May, 1932.

The "Model De Luxe" Air Rifle

Dear Sir,

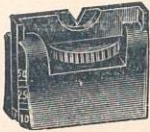

I would like to say a few words about a "Model De Luxe" Air Rifle, which I possess. It proved an excellent target weapon. One day I thought I would try it among the rabbits, and got the surprise of my life with it. I can bowl them over up to twenty-five and even thirty yards range with scarcely a miss, and have actually shot one or two at over forty yards. Truly it is a great little gun and a credit to the makers.

Yours faithfully,
HARRY GIBB.

N.A.R.A. Dimensions.

Recommended for both practice and competitions.
The Bull's Eye when struck releases a simple mechanism which simultaneously strikes a bell and shows the figure "5" over the top of the target, thus doing away with any uncertainty as to whether the pellet has or has not scored the major points. The target plate is hardened and is replaceable when necessary.

Cleaning Rods for Rifles

To get continued accurate shooting from any rifle it is absolutely necessary that the interior of the barrel should be kept clean and bright, and a rifle should, therefore, never be put away dirty, but should always be carefully cleaned and oiled after using. If the interior of a rifle barrel is allowed to become rusty, and the rust to eat into the metal, it is impossible to put the matter right, and the barrel will probably be entirely spoiled. We advise the purchase of a Cleaning Rod with every rifle, and we give below illustrations and particulars of the most serviceable patterns. When Cleaning Rods are ordered separately, the bore of the rifle in which they are to be used should always be stated.

BREECH-LOADING CENTRAL-FIRE IMPLEMENTS.

IMPORTANT We would call the special attention of buyers to our complete sets of implements. These will be found to contain all the articles really necessary for cleaning a gun and for re-capping and loading cartridges. It should not be forgotten how necessary it is that guns should be kept thoroughly clean, and cartridges well loaded, if good shooting is to be obtained. When possible, a complete set of implements should be purchased with each gun.

We can supply any kind of Gun Implement or Cleaning Tool.

"Twin Zero" Aperture Back Sight

For .303 S.M.L.E. Rifles. 42/6
 ,, .303 Charger Loading Rifles.
 ,, .303 Long L.E. Rifles.

We claim this sight to be the best Aperture Sight yet invented. It is a real engineering feat. Perfectly made, solid in use and pleasing in design. Before the advent of this sight, target shooting had arrived at a point when rifles and individuals shot better than the sights permitted, owing to their faulty construction, design or wear. The S.M.L.E. Rifle will, when properly adjusted group to 1½ minutes of angle and very often this is less than the amount of shake found in other aperture sights new and old. Shake means inners, and no marksman can afford to lose points through this cause. Much time and experiment has been devoted to this Twin Zero Model, which is entirely different from any other aperture sight, and the new ideas embodied have justified five separate patents.

For True Alignment and Shooting Improvement.

Reg. by M. G. Co. No. 757751

3/- each.

THE SHADOW SICHTER

CLAIMS :—

- (1) If aim is correct (the shadow) will not interfere with aiming as it only presents a shadowy edge and can be used in the field without obstruction of vision.
- (2) Will economise on Cartridges, as you will not shoot if you are shown your aim at the Game in view is incorrect and you are bound to miss.
- (3) Will definitely improve shooting, as you can practice aiming in private and can correct you own mistakes. Watch with the sighter in position how you vary your alignment almost every time you put up your Gun in practice.
- (4) The Shadow will show if your Gun fits you : If not, come or send to us for advice.
- (5) It slips on gun by spring steel padded inside and does not damage or mark Gun.

GAME CALLS also useful for Dance Band purposes Jazz Effects.

Wood, Horn and other Decoy Calls, imitating the calls of various birds and animals. The successful use of these greatly depends upon the user.

The bird caller is little known, and his art perhaps equally so, the principal reason for this being that he is rarely met with and seldom observed at work. His hunting grounds are off the beaten track, in districts little frequented except by the furred and feathered inhabitants, and here he engages in his interesting studies, generally alone. Considerable interest has been aroused in bird calls owing to the help they afford the Nature lover, bird photographers, wild-fowler, etc., in approaching the shy and cunning species, while the Game-keeper, ever ready to preserve his master's game, has found out that these calls are of a valuable assistance to him in his calling in enticing various enemies of game within close range and this permitting of their destruction. The calls generally in use comprise pheasant, partridge, grouse, wood-pigeon, green plover, golden plover, owl, curlew, wild duck, hare, rabbit, snipe, blackbird, hawk, teal, magpie, jay and weasel. Inferior calls are made, but these are not recommended as the results are not to be compared with the higher priced article. All the calls are worked with the left hand, and in a few cases held by the teeth entirely, this leaving either the right hand or both hands free for other work.

It must be understood that the successful use of these calls depends chiefly upon the manipulator, and his practical knowledge of the proper notes emitted by the various species in a wild state. The Gamekeeper, however, who is conversant with, and can name, almost every bird and animal from their call note, will have little or no difficulty in successfully operating the calls.
